

COASTAL ADAPTATION

Welcome to the Coochie SEMP Open House

What is this all about?

The Coochiemudlo Island foreshore has changed over time.

Through talking to long-term locals and marine engineers, Council has learnt some fascinating things about how, when, and why those changes occurred.

The aim of this Open House is to share this information with you and to hear from you about anything else we might need to know. Council also wants to know what you value most about Coochiemudlo Island.

How can I get involved?

Talk to a member of the Coochie SEMP project team. There are maps around the room and we encourage you to identify those areas of importance to you and why.
